

WHERE DOES THE WORD ROBOT COME FROM?

The first person to use the word "robot" in its current meaning is the Czech writer Karel Čapek. Čapek used the word robot in his work "R.U.R. - Rossum's Universal Robots" written in 1920. Later, this word gained worldwide acceptance. The Czech meaning of the word "Robot" is "Worker"!!!

In the future, half of the current jobs will be done by robots.

It is thought that many professions will disappear with digitalization and robot technology in the world.

According to a report published in 2018, the number of robots is increasing by 15% every year.

Major industries are aiming to increase the number of robots to over one million in the next 15 years. According to a comprehensive research result (McKinsey Global Institute), almost half of the current jobs in the world will be done with robots by 2055.